MARK HANNA DEAD.

Short Sketch of Life of the Great Organizer.

Washington, Feb. 16—Senator Hanna is dead after lying unconscious for fifteen hours. He will have a public funeral in the Senate on Wednesday and will be buried in Cleveland on Friday.

Marcus A. Hanna, United States Senator from Ohio since 1897, and the most prominent of the friends and advisers of the late President McKinley, was born at New Lisbon (now Lisbon), Ohio, on Sept. 24, 1837. He had made his home in Cleveland since 1852. Senator Hanna directed the campaign which secured the nomination and election and re-election of William McKinley as president. During the last few months his name was prominently mentioned for the Presidential nomination this year.

Hanna received a poor school education but one of the best of business educations. He became an employee in the wholesale grocery house of his father and on the latter's death took entire charge of the business, laying at that time the foundations of the immense fortune which he now leaves. He married at the age of thirty and realizing the importance of the coal and iron industry of the Great Lakes identified himself in a small way with that business. By strict industry he enlarged the scope of his activity year after year until he became a great power in the financial world of Cleveland. It was through the business of one of his great coal mines that he became acquainted with McKinley. At that time the latter was an obscure lawyer and had taken charge of some cases in which he defended a small band of striking miners. Their business dealings at that time ripened into a friendship which lasted through the vagaries of many political campaigns until the death of the President.

In late years Hanna has been connected with some great business enterprises. He was head of the firm of M. A. Hanna & Co., coal operators; director of the Globe Ship Manufacturing Company; president of the Union National Bank; president of the Cleveland City Railway Company; president of the Chapin Mining Company; and had extensive interests in other business enterprises.

THE FIRST BATTLE.

Admiral Togo Makes Official Report of Naval Encounter.

Washington, Feb. 13, 1904.
To Saito, Honolulu:

On the 10th inst., the following report was made by Admiral Togo, Commander-in-Chief of the Imperial Squadron:

"Having left Sasebo on the 6th inst., our torpedo flotilla attacked with great success the enemy's fleet on the 8th inst., outside of the harbor of Port Arthur. On the next day at 10 a.m., our squadron attacked the enemy for about forty minutes. The enemy's fleet fled into the harbor and at 1 p.m., we ceased firing and withdrew. Our ships were very slightly damaged, none having lost their fighting power. Our actual losses were four killed and fifty-four wounded. The Imperial Princes are all safe. After the battle, our torpedo flotilla rejoined the main squadron. Officers and men are high-spirited and during the battle they behaved with great calmness as if at ordinary maneuvers."

Chefoo, China, Feb. 15—It is reported that eleven Russian war vessels of various kinds were destroyed in the Japanese attack on Port Arthur.

MURDERER CAPTURED.

Japanese Confess That He Killed Glennen With Dynamite.

The police of Kauai, under the guidance of Mr. Sheriff Coney have been quietly working on the Glennen murder case, with the invaluable assistance of Mr. Chester Doyle of Honolulu. Soon after the murder Mr. Coney suspecting that it was due to the itinerant gamblers who frequent the Japanese camps, brought before the lower court of Lihue about 28 men who were not employed on the plantations and had no visible means of support, and charged them with vagrancy; they were committed to jail for various terms.

During their stay in jail Mr. Chester Doyle examined and re-examined them, especially four who were supposed ring leaders of the gang. Finally they got them to confess that the man who actually did the deed had escaped to Honolulu. Mr. Coney thereupon dispatched his deputy Mr. W. H. Rice Jr. to find and arrest the man, and with the aid of Japanese detective, succeeded in tracing the accused to Ewa, where after a three days search the man was arrested. He was brought to Lihue and safely lodged in jail.

This morning he was brought before the district magistrate Judge Kahele for preliminary hearing. The evidence led was so strong and of such a convincing nature that the court did not hesitate about committing the accused to the Grand Jury to answer to the charge of murder in the first degree.

Then the accused, seeing, it is supposed, the hopelessness of any defence and being weighed down by his sense of guilt made a full confession, in which he was understood to state that he was the one who actually lit the fuse that exploded the giant powder, resulting in the death of Mr. Glennen, and that for this purpose he used eight sticks of dynamite.—The Garden Island.

Askold Sunk.

Washington, Feb. 15th, 1904.
To Saito, Honolulu.

Among the statements given by the captain of the U. S. steamer Pleiades, which just arrived at Japan from Port Arthur, are the following:

"Russian cruiser Askold, which had been shelled by our navy, was greatly damaged and at last sank on the 13th inst., forenoon, in the inner harbor. In the battle at sea, in the Russian fleet, there were 29 killed and 60 wounded, who were carried ashore. It is also stated that among the garrison of the Golden Hill fortress two were killed and several wounded."

TAKAHIRA.

Yingkow, Manchuria, Feb. 15.—The ships of neutral powers seized by Russia have been released.

San Francisco, Feb. 16—A consignment of California fruit for Port Arthur has been seized on the Coptic.

London, Feb. 16—The British steamer Foxton Hall, detained at Port Arthur, has been destroyed by fire.

Seoul, Korea, Feb. 15—Japanese troops are guarding the Russian Consulate in Seoul. The city is quiet.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 16—Viceroy Alexieff reports the destruction of the Japanese steamer Sungari. The earlier reports from the seat of war noted the sinking of the Russian transport Sungari at Chemulpo. There is no vessel of that name on the available lists of the Japanese commercial marine.

CONDITIONS IN KAU.

Jared Smith Reports Leaf-Hopper not Serious.

Honolulu, Feb. 15.—Director Jared G. Smith of the Agricultural Experiment Station returned this morning in the Helene from his trip through the Kona and Kau districts. In speaking of the trip Mr. Smith prefaced his remarks with the statements that he had just completed the toughest trip he had ever made. He was in the midst of the storm during his travels but reports that no special damage was done in Kona and Kau. The water washed considerable top dressing off the road to Kailua and deposited immense boulders in the midst of the road near Napoopoo.

Mr. Smith visited the Hawaiian Agricultural and Hutchinson plantations to study the leaf-hopper situation. "I found the leaf-hopper bad in places, but I think it will pass without doing an alarming amount of damage. The latter part of the season is likely to see a diminution of the leaf-hopper. Of course much depends upon the weather. With continued warm weather the cane will be alright. Cold storms may cause a set-back. We have had an exceptionally warm winter and if this continues I see no serious damages in prospect.

"The red spider, lady-birds and parasites that prey upon the leaf-hopper are getting in their work and I anticipate that the new cane will grow away from the hopper."

Defeat Queen's Claims.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 15—The claim of ex-Queen Liliuokalani was taken up in the Senate today and finally defeated after an interesting contest.

The Senate by a vote of 23 to 27 refused to commit the bill to appropriate $200,000 for the Queen, reported favorably by committee. An amendment reducing the appropriation to $125,000 was made and adopted.

The bill then went to vote and was defeated on a tie ballot.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 13—The report that the Japanese land forces lost two regiments in landing to attack Port Arthur is not true.

London, Feb. 16—Reports reach here of a second engagement at Port Arthur in which eight Russian vessels were sunk and ten captured.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 16—Viceroy Alexieff telegraphs that the Japanese are preparing to land at Tsinjenda, on the Liaotung peninsula, and that a three days' blizzard has been raging.

Nagasaki, Japan, Feb. 15—Martial law has been declared throughout the Empire. The exodus of Russian residents has begun. The mobilization of the army has been completed.
